—John Trouth, who has been in poor health, has gone to Michigan to recruit. His granddaughter, Miss Bertha Knapp, accompanied him.

—An exchange says that Mr. Cantack was married the other night. His wife will doubtless find him a handy man at house cleaning time.

—W. J. Withers, of the jewelry firm of Withers & Bates, Sioux City, is spending a few days in our city with his brother-in-law, N. D. Clark.

—Editor William Giles and daughter, of Freeport, are visiting at the residence of Theron Cumins in North Dixon. They are here to attend the wedding of the son and brother, W. S Giles, to Miss Bertie Woodworth to-morrow.

—"And the greatest of these is charity." Dixon has responded nobley to the call for help at Sublette on account of the tornado sufferers. Nearly two hundred in cash and much more than that in goods were dispatched by our people.

Some papers are criticising the use of the term "artificial ice" on the ground that the ice in question is real ice. That raises an interesting question. Cannot a thing be real and artificial at the same time? If so, "artificial ice" will pass muster, as it is not synonymous with "imitation ice."

—Omar Drew died this morning in Chicago from a surgical operation for a tumor of the stomach. We had heretofore noticed his deporture to the city for medical treatment. The young man was born in Dixon twenty-six years ago and was a son of the late Alva Drew. He was married about five months since to Miss Mary Murphy; she is now left a widow to mourn his sad death. The remains will be brought to Dixon this afternoon.

—With the next issue of Harper's Weekly will be published a unique eight-page Supplement giving views of London in 1616 and in 1890. Old and new London are placed side by side, and the changes which have taken place in the city during the last three centuries are graphically presented to the eye. The same number of the Weekly will contain an article by Henry Inman, entitled "The Last of the Buffalo," relating some interesting facts in the history of the American bison, and giving an account of its extinction. The article will be accompanied by two pages of illustrations from drawings by Frederic Remington.

CENSUS RETURNS.

Population of Lee County—Comparisons

We give below the official census returns of Lee county, with the exception of Nachusa, Subiette, Wyoming, Lee Center and the city of Dixon, which have not yet been returned to the Supervisor, C. C. Jones. However we may say that the population of the city of Dixon will not be far from six thousand, thus showing a percentage of gain not excelled by any city in this section of the west. We also give for comparison the population of the towns at the last census, 1880, and it will be seen that in every township, except Dixon and Ashton, there has been a decrease in population. Both the township and city of Amboy have decreased considerably, as may be seen by the following very interesting report of the present and returns of ten years ago:

	1890	1880
Alto Township	925	1025
Amboy "	882	1065
Amboy City	2250	2449
Ashton Township	1025	987
Harmon and Nelson	1290	1498
Bradford	720	837
Brooklyn	1155	1257
China	1350	1411
Dixon Township	640	583
East Grove and Hamilton	975	1212
Marion	740	917
May	760	870
Palmyra	1020	1145
Reynolds	675	744
South Dixon	840	973
Viola	600	729
Willow Creek	1035	1208

We presume that the decrease apparent in China was in the township and not the village of Franklin, but we can not give figures as the returns are consolidated. Last census reported Franklin 730 and China 681. In 1880 Dixon had a population of 3653. The report is not completed but now it will be about 6000.

The following is the only verse in the Bible that contains the alphabet: "And I, even I, Artaxerxes, the King, do make a decree to all the treasures which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra, the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily."—Ezra vii, 21.

—The census of a few of the cities of this State give the following approximate returns: Freeport, 10,380, a gain of 1,864 in ten year. Mt. Carroll 1,830; Fulton 2,400 Rochelle 1,500. Next to Chicago, Peoria is the largest city in the State, and advances from 29,529 ten years ago to 41,320; Quincy goes up from 27,268 to 31-231; Springfield from 19,743 to 26,496; Joilet from 11,557 to 26,350; Rockford from 13,136 to 23,506 and Bloomington from 17,180 to 20,500.

—That was a rattling game of ball which Dixon and Sterling teams played at Maple Park yesterday afternoon. Both clubs appeared in good trim. This was especially noticeable with the Dixon boys as they have not had much practice. The Sterling pitcher is a good one and it required several innings for our boys to get the hang of his twists. Seese was the first to catch on. Barr made a couple of running catches in the center field. Young Adams, a new-comer, now in Rust's jewelry store, made several good plays; a running catch was particularly applauded. Seese, McBride and Worthington made a neat double play. In fact they covered themselves all over with glory yesterday. It was up-hill work, however, with the umpire dead against them. It is very much of a chestnut to complain of the umpire, but when a team is compelled to put out five men in order to get the innings, as was clearly the case yesterday, there is cause for complaint. At the close the game stood six to seven in favor of Sterling.

The visitors are made up of professionals and have been playing under pay in a league during the season.

—The Editor of the Mendota Bulletin appears to have taken to the science of medicine recently and he particularly prescribes for Miss Gridley, of Amboy, who has been sleeping so long, as THE TELEGRAPH has heretofore stated. The editor, however, gets his main points from one of the doctors of that town:

Dr. Edwards, who has seen the young lady, informed a Bulletin reporter that her trouble is known to the medical profession as hysterical catalepsy or diseased will. It is one form of hysteria which manifests itself in various ways in different women. Some laugh incessantly, some cry, some pray, and some sleep. In Miss Gridley's case it is the latter, and the Dr. says she will come out of it after a four months sleep. However if treated properly she might have been awakened long ago. The way to stimulate a diseased will is to arouse anger. This might be done in three ways: by persevering in the galvanic current whether it hurts or not, by standing her up and dousing her with a pail or two of cold water, or by neglecting her and leaving her alone in the room unattended for some time. Any of these would make her mad, and madness would stimulate her will so that she would arouse herself to protest against the treatment."

The treatment may be termed heroic, or editorial, which is about the same thing: but will not probably meet the approval of the doctors.

The interrogation "What?" has been eliminated from the vocabulary of fashion. You may say "how?" "pardon?" "please?" or anything, in fact, but the horribly vulgar term "what?"

Rev. Sam Small, now president of a Utah university, asked the New York Sun recently for an appropriate and encouraging sentiment to be placed in the corner-stone of the new main building The language of Bildad to Job was sent: "Though thy beginning was Small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase."

LONDON'S POLICE.

The Strikers Seem To Be on the Retreat.

PUBLIC OPINION AGAINST THEM.

Young Men Principally Responsible for the Demonstration—Small Pay of the Men — Riotous Doings in Bow Street Promptly Quelled—Bismarck Visited by German-American Rhinemen—The Ex-Chancellor Talks Kindly of America, and Lunches His Visitors.

LONDON, July 9.—Yesterday morning's newspapers were unanimous in condemnation of the police strike, which sentiment is shared by the public generally. Public opinion has condemned Sir Edward Bradford's policy since his appointment as chief of public police, but is overwhelmingly favorable to him in its estimate of his conduct Monday. On all sides his course is applauded, and nobody questions its necessity. The police were placed at a decided disadvantage, as regards justification, in attempting to strike upon the short notice they gave of their intention, since every member of the force is bound by an agreement to give two months' notice of his purpose of abandoning the service.

The Young Men Were the Leaders.

The agitators of the strike were mainly novices, who had everything to gain and little to lose. The veterans of the force hesitated to sacrifice the benefits and advantages of their past long service by following the lead of their hot-headed juniors, and their hesitancy in the future will certainly be greater. It is unquestionably to the coolness and better judgment of the older men in the service that the failure of the strike is due. These men had never committed themselves to an out and out strike, and their reluctance to take the step influenced many of their colleagues who otherwise would have responded to the call for a general outbreak.

Meetings of the Discontented.

Several meetings of policemen were held yesterday, the chief feature of which was the general disposition displayed by the men to quarrel among themselves. It is quite evident that what little of the spirit of organization their movement possessed has entirely disappeared and the entire force is at sixes and sevens. The ringleaders are blaming one another for the failure of the attempted strike and the younger men are berating their elders for not supporting them at the critical time. The men on duty are restless and sullen. It is true they are to all outward appearances obeying orders with their customary promptness, but the discipline of the force has been seriously shaken and their work is being done perfunctorily.

Salaries of the Police.

The police are not without sympathizers in parliament in their efforts to better their condition. Pickersgill, member for South Bethnal Green, points out that the ordinary dockman at 6 pence (12 cents) an hour, if he worked the ordinary number of hours that a London policeman is on duty, would receive more pay than many of the constables. The metropolitan police receive from 24 to 30 shillings ($6 to $7) a week, and the city police an average of 2 shillings more than the metropolitan.

Disorder in Bow Street.

A disorderly mob filled Bow street last evening, but were prevented from committing acts of violence by the mounted police, who finally dispersed the crowd. The night police were punctual in reporting for duty. At 10 o'clock in the evening the police cleared all the taverns and public houses in the vicinity of Bow street and occupied them to prevent their reopening. The mob resented this action and sixteen of their number were arrested. The crowd attempted to rescue the prisoners, but were unsuccessful. In the conflict four constables were injured. The crowd was then dispersed, and at midnight all was quiet.

BISMARCK AND OUR RIFLEMEN.

They Exchange Oratorical Amenities and Lunch Together.

BERLIN, July 9.—The Independent New York Shooting corps, in full uniform, paid a visit to Prince Bismarck yesterday. Chief Forester Lange conducted them into the castle, where Prince Bismarck shook hands with each one. William Webber expressed the thanks of the party for the privilege given them of visiting the great man to whom Germany owed her unity. Thousands of his associates, he said, would envy his standing at Friedrichsruhe, and the day would be the pleasantest memory they would carry back to America.

Bismarck Was Glad to See Them.

Prince Bismarck expressed his pleasure at the visit, and said he was surprised to hear only German names. Germans in America, he said, must feel satisfied with the unification of Germany even on the other side of the Atlantic. Formerly one was a Saxon, another was a Prussian, and another was a Hessian; but now each called himself a German. The marksmen might, as German pioneers, further contribute towards the preservation of the ties knitting the two nations. He had always striven to maintain good relations with America.

Interested in American Beer.

At the luncheon which followed William Weber sat on Bismarck's right and Commercial Councillor Wegel, as an honorary member of the independent corps, sat on his left. The ex-chancellor was in a cheery mood, and related many interesting anecdotes of his life. He inquired into the condition of the beer and wine trade trade in America and raked for details of the day's shooting. After the repast Prince Bismarck smoked his favorite pipe, while the guests were regaled with choice cigars. Monday the prince had his photograph taken on horse back, and he promised to give Mr. Weber one of the pictures when completed.

The American Sculler Beaten.

LONDON, July 9.—In the first heat of the rowing race for the diamond sculls, at Henley yesterday, Kennedy defeated Psotta by four lengths.

A Tale of Woe in a Tin Can.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—A tin canister was picked up Monday on Squaw Island, in the Niagara river, containing a dirty piece of paper, on which was written in pencil the following, signed "Jack Powers, Duncan, Mich.:" "March 30, 1890. We struck an awful squall. All on board are lost. I am on a raft, and can't hold out much longer. Any one that finds this slip please notify my folks. Good bye." It is thought to be a hoax.

KHIGHTS OF PYTHIAS' CONCLAVE.

A Brilliant Parade Through the Streets of Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 9.—The supreme lodge of Knights of Pythias was welcomed to the city yesterday by Mayor Peck, Governor Hoard and Grand Chancellor Hoskins. J. P. Linton, of Johnstown, Pa., responded. After the reception the supreme lodge convened at West Side Turner hall, Supreme Vice Chancellor Shaw presiding. The annual reports show that the order had a membership at the close of 1889 of 263,847, and now about 275,000. Paid for relief in the past year, $789,455.53; in the past two years, $1,497,435.66. Ohio has gained most largely—5,582 members; Indiana, 3,240. Vice Chancellor George B. Shaw, of Eau Claire, Wis., will undoubtedly be elected supreme chancellor.

Six Thousand Uniforms in Line.

Unquestionably the grandest procession, civic or military, ever seen in this city, was the Knights of Pythias parade of uniform rank and non-uniform knights that took place in Milwaukee yesterday. Starting a few minutes after 4 o'clock it took two hours for the procession to pass a given point. Careful estimates by Pythian officers, as well as by well posted military men and civilians, place the number of men in line at over 6,000. The uniform rank men in line numbered nearly 6,000, nearly every regiment in the United States and Canada being represented.

The Scene on Grand Avenue.

As the column moved down Grand avenue, and brigade after brigade fell in from the side streets, a grander scene of glittering pageantry could not well be imagined. Through the trees on that well-shaded avenue the bright plumes, glittering epaulets, shining swords, and other knightly paraphernalia glistened and danced in the rays of a declining sun with most beautiful effect, and appeared as one endless stream of brilliancy. The only affair of the kind that equaled it was the one by uniformed knights in Cincinnati three years ago, which Gen. Shermen reviewed and pronounced the finest since the close of the war. There were at that time 10,000 in line.

Route of the Grand March.

The procession, which was several miles in length, moved in splendid and accurate military style down the avenue, up Wisconsin street to Jefferson, wheeling north on Jefferson and moving to Biddle, and out Biddle to Juneau park, where the disbandment took place. Gen. Carnahan and staff reined up at the corner of Marshall and Biddle streets, from which point they reviewed the great marching hosts, who passed by with loud cheers and enthusiastic greetings

Were Bound to Have Their Beer.

Gen. Carnahan has issued an order prohibiting the use of beer in the encampment of the knights. The order has almost created a revolt, and the California contingent has left the encampment and pitched its tents outside the jurisdiction of the commanding officer, where they can drink as much of the amber fluid as they desire.

On the Base Ball Field.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The base ball scores recorded yesterday were as follows: League: At Boston—Boston 15, Pittsburg 1; batteries—Baker, Bowman, and Decker, Getzein and Bennett. At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 9, Cincinnati 4; batteries—Vickery and Clements, Foreman and Baldwin. At New York—New York 2, Chicago 3; batteries—Welch and Buckley, Luby and Kittridge. At Brooklyn—Cleveland 1, Brooklyn 7; batteries—Wadsworth and Zimmer, Carruthers and Clark.

Brotherhood: At Boston—Boston 7, Cleveland 9; batteries—Radbourne, Madden and Kelly, Gruber and Sutcliffe. At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 13, Pittsburg 10; batteries—Knell and Cross, Staley and Quinn. At New York—New York 20, Buffalo 10; batteries—Crane, Hatfield and Ewing, Keefe and Mack. At Brooklyn—Brooklyn 2, Chicago 3; batteries—Sowders and Daly, King and Farrell.

Yesterday was another cold day for the Brotherhood in attendance, the figures being: League, 5,479; Brotherhood, 2,925.

Western: At St. Paul—Denver 16, St. Paul 13; at DesMoines—Sioux City 5, DesMoines 7; at Milwaukee—Kansas City 4, Milwaukee 5; at Minneapolis—Omaha 8, Minneapolis 6.

One Out of a Thousand Hurt.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 9.—A special to The Times from Meadville, Pa., says: The Meadville and Linesville excursion train, carrying the Baptist Sunday school of Franklin, who picnicked at Connaut lake, was wrecked at Watson's Run station last evening, injuring seriously but one out of the 1,000 passengers on board. That one was Mrs. Clara Rowe, who got an ugly scalp wound.

Charged His Suicide to His Wife.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 9.—The body of Albert Dohles, of Waterloo, was found in Owasco lake, near the Ensenore Glen house, yesterday. William Dohles, his son, received the following letter from him yesterday: "Good bye, William, my grave is in Owasco lake. Your mother is the cause of it."

The Flyers at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 9.—At Washington Park course yesterday the following horses took the stakes: Vallera, ⅝ mile, 1:16⅓; Robespierre, 1 1-16 miles, 1:49; Santiago, 1 mile, 1:43½; Heron, 1 mile 70 yards, 1:45½; Lakeview, ¾ mile heats, 1:14½, 1:44½.

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR VANCE.

The Tar Heel Farmers' Alliance Putting a Flea in His Ear.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 9.—A few days ago, in an open letter to Elias Carr, president of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance, Senator Vance said he could not support the sub-treasury bill. The official organ of the Alliance yesterday in a leading editorial attacked Vance. It says: "Senator Vance may have underestimated the strength of the Alliance. Men living right here in the state have done this. He may think he may ignore its demands, but he will find that it contains more than one-third of the backbone of the state. Senator Vance is a brainy man, but we contend that the thousands of Alliance men in North Carolina know a thing or two.

The Editor Wants to Know.

"He would have us believe that he knows more than the hundred of intelligent farmers from twenty-three states who met in St. Louis last December. The farmers of North Carolina pay Senator Vance. It is his business to work for them. Whether the measures are constitutional or not he should do it, and if the bill is not in proper shape he should have gone to work and put it in shape. If he is not willing to serve the people we want to know it." The article closes with a proposal to elect farmers to congress and begin right away.

ORIGINAL PARCELS

Likely to Cause a Hot Fight in the House.

THE BILL IS TOO ALL-EMBRACING.

Some Interests That Will Be Represented in the Struggle—Opposition in the Senate to the Silver Compromise—Congressmen Taking to the Woods—Wyoming Will Soon Be a State—Eulogies on Sunset Cox—Blowout of a Wild Western Geyser.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—A very interesting and important struggle is imminent in the house over the original package bill. Cannon, representing the committee on rules, yesterday made an effort to bring that bill up for immediate consideration, but his resolution was lost by a vote of 90 to 87, the opponents of the bill combining with the friends of other measures against it. Cannon intends making another effort to-day, but it is believed a majority of the house is against the bill and will oppose its consideration.

A Fight Between City and Country.

Cannon made a confession of the weakness of his cause yesterday by embracing the bankruptcy bill in his resolution, but even this bid for the support of the friends of that measure proved unavailing. The fight over the original package bill is like to be a contest between city and country. The house bill, by giving states absolute power over commerce on sanitary grounds, whereas the senate bill gave that power over intoxicating liquors alone, proposes a radical change in the relative functions of federal and state powers concerning commerce.

The House Bill Too Comprehensive.

As Adams of Chicago points out in his minority report against the bill, this proposed law gives authority to the states to exclude from their makets dressed beef, oleomargarine, acid vinegar, cotton seed oil and many other articles of commerce. All these interests are likely to take a hand in the conflict. A majority of the Democrats are opposed to the bill, and probably a majority of the Republicans are in favor of it. Among the many Republicans who will oppose the measure is Adams of Chicago, who is preparing an exhaustive speech on the subject.

The "Big Four" Not Worried.

Springer would like to make a speech against the bill, but the condition of his health is such that he is not likely to be in his seat for three or four weeks. Many of the members, both Republicans and Democrats, fancy they are compelled to support the bill out of deference to their temperance constituents. The inactivity of the Chicago dressed beef men in this emergency is believed to be based upon their confidence in their abilty to establish the unconstitutionality of the law in the supreme court.

SENATORS ON THE SILVER BILL.

Points Made in the Debate for and Against the Measure.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The conference report on the silver bill was attacked in the senate yesterday by Vest and Coke. Vest declared that the bill did away with the idea of free coinage and was a back down on the part of the senate. The business of the country, he said, was still to be conducted on the gold basis, and the bill would not increase the price of silver. Coke agreed with Vest. He opposed the purchase of a single ounce of silver that was not to be coined. Both declared their intention to vote against the bill.

Teller Presents Some Figures.

Teller, in reply to Vest and Coke, said he had made a calculation as to the increase of currency that would take place under the conference bill. The purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver at Monday's price—$1.04 per ounce—would require the issue of $4,700,000 in treasury notes. At $1.05 per ounce the amount of treasury notes to be issued would be $4,725,000 per month; at $1.10, $4,950,000; at $1.20, $5,400,000; and at par, $5,814,000 per month, or about $70,000,000 a year.

Stewart said that if the conference bill were executed in good faith (as the senate was bound to assume it would be), it would give great relief.

Cockrell said the conference bill reverted back to the single gold standard, and left silver as a mere merchandise, like wheat, tobacco, corn, or oats.

NATIONAL LEGISLATION.

Effect of Hot Weather on House Attendance—The Rules Committee Defeated.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The senate yesterday took up the conference report on the silver bill. Vest, Coke, and the Democrats generally opposed it, while Sherman, Teller, and Stewart defended it. The bill was laid aside at 3 p. m., and eulogies were pronounced on the late S. S. Cox by Voorhees, Hiscock, Vest, Dixon, Evarts, and Sherman, the latter at times being so affected that he was forced to pause until he regained control of his feelings. When the speaking had been concluded, the senate adjourned as a further mark of respect.

It required a call of the house to develop a quorum and then the senate amendments to the Wyoming admission bill were agreed. Some other business having been disposed of the bill to regulate the "rule of the road" at sea was discussed and passed. The bill is the outcome of the recent international marine conference held in this city. In the vote on this bill the fact came out that there were 46 pairs, showing the absence of 92 members. The committee on rules reported a resolution making the "original packages" and bankruptcy bills, the regular order for fourdays. The resolution was defeated—97 to 80. The conference report on a private bill was taken up but Cummings rose to a question of personal privilege and when that was settled the house adjourned.

JOHN I. DAVENPORT OBJECTS.

He Wants The Record to State All the Facts in the Case.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—Cummings of New York rose to a question of personal privilege in the house yesterday, and quoted from the speech made by him on the national election bill some allusions to John I. Davenport. He then read a letter he had received from that gentleman stating that he saw in The Record that Crisp had inserted in his speech an infamous attack upon him (Davenport), copied from The Commercial Advertiser. Subsequently that paper had made a retraction, and he thought it but just that this retraction (which is quoted) should go on the record of the house. He therefore had requested Cummings to read the letter.

Crisp Pleads Ignorance.

Crisp said that he did not know Davenport, and had merely cut the extract from the paper and inserted it in his remarks because he had not had time to read it. If he had known that a retraction had been made, he certainly would not have used the article.

A GEYSER ON THE BOOM.

The "New Crater" at Norris Basin, Wyo., in Active Eruption.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—Secretary Noble has received the following dispatch from Superintendent Boutelle, at Mammoth Hot Springs, Wy. T., which indicate the outburst of a volcano in that region: The following dispatch has just been received from Norris Basin: "At 4:15 p. m. there was a severe shock of earthquake, followed by a terrible roar, and upon investigation it proved that the geyser called 'New Crater,' was in active eruption. It is throwing up a column of steam, stones and water about 200 feet in circumference, and to the height of about 125 feet, and shaking the whole basin around that vicinity."

Two Dollars a Day for Laborers.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—Representative Wade, of Missouri, submitted a report to the house yesterday from the committee on labor on a bill declaring that laborers employed on government work shall not receive less than $2 per day. In his report Wade says that it has been made to appear to the committee on labor that the wages to certain of the laborers in the employ of the government is only $1.25 per day, and in some instances these laborers are permitted to work only one-half time, thus making the total pay only $15 per month.

The Population of St. Louis.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The rough count of the population returns of the city of St. Louis just completed by the census office, was submitted yesterday to Secretary Noble. It shows an increase of about 16,000 over the first estimate, making the total population about 448,000. Secretary Noble will now decide the question whether the petition presented to him asking for a recount should be granted.

Pensions for Army Nurses.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The committee on invalid pensions, through Mr. Belknap, yesterday submitted a report to the house on the bill to pension army nurses. The report states that the nurses who will be benefited by the passage of the bill number not more than 900.

Hot Weather at the Capital.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The maximum local temperature recorded at the signal office yesterday 97.8 degrees. This was reached at 3 o'clock. The street readings ranged from 100 to 104 degrees during the hottest part of the day.

The President at His Post Again.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 9.—The president, Private Secretary Halford, and Mrs. and Miss Halford arrived in Washington at 3:30 yesterday afternoon from Cape May.

A VICTORY FOR IKE WEIR.

"The Spider" Does Up Jim Connor in Three Rounds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—Ike Weir, of Boston, known as the "Belfast Spider," and James Connor, instructor of the Buffalo Athletic club, fought before 1,300 people at the Erie County Athletic Club rooms last night for a purse of $1,750, of which $250 went to the loser. Two-ounce gloves were used. Weir won in the third round, knocking Connor completely out. When the men went into the ring both were chewing—Connor a piece of gum and Weir a piece of straw. In the first round Connor got Weir's head in chancery, but it didn't hurt. Weir landed on Connor's head, stomach and nose and Connor on Weir's face.

The Final Knock-Out.

In the second round Connors got in heavily on Weir's neck, while Ike caught his antagonist on the chest. The round ended in Weir's favor, and the third round was begun. Weir danced around like he was on springs, and evidently disconcerted Connors, who smiled, and the next instant got a terrific blow on the chin, which stretched him on his back. This dazed him, and when he got upon his feet he met Ike's fist again, and went down like a shot, unconscious. This settled the fight.

The Gathering of Educators.

ST. PAUL, July 9.—The National Educational council held its closing session yesterday morning, and finished the business preparatory to the opening of the National association convention. The officers were nearly all re-elected for the ensuing year, President Peabody being one of the re-elected. The other officers are: Vice president, A. J. Rickoff, of New York; secretary and treasurer, D. S. Kiehie, of Minnesota. The association held its preliminary session yesterday afternoon, with a large attendance. The meeting was held out of doors, at Rice park, and was devoted to welcoming speeches and responses, and the appointment of routine committees.

A Ship's Company Nearly Starved.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A cablegram received here announces the arrival yesterday at Kington, Jamaica, of the missing steamship Glasgow. The vessel put into that port for supplies and reports terrible experience from hunger for the two weeks past. She left this city June 1 for Venezuela. She failed to make that port, rough weather throwing her entirely out of her course. She had on board a week's supplies, and these ran out late in June. Since then her crew has had little or nothing to eat and were in a terrible condition when they reached Kingston.

He Lives on Less Than a Chinaman.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 9.—Dr. Charles K. Barlow, a dentist of this city has taken nofood of any kind, except a glass of milk or a cup of coffee each day for over forty-five days. When he began fasting he weighed 249 pounds and measured 49 inches around the body. He now weighs 201 pounds and his body measurement is 36 inches. At the end of the forty-five days the doctor was ready to eat something substantial, but his appetite failed, and has not returned. He says he feels well and has worked hard every day since the fast.

A Big Blow at Cheboygan.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., July 9.—A severe rain storm, accompanied by a gale from the northwest, struck this city Monday night, doing considerable damage to buildings, fences and trees and leveling the crops in the surrounding country. Houses in the lower part of the town were completely surrounded by water from two to three feet in depth.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would loose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms was just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eye-sight. MRS. ROSA KELLY,

A NEW SOLUTION

Of the Strike Problem on Railway Lines.

A PLAN OF THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

President Fish Proposes to Make the Employes Stockholders in the Road—A Scheme That Seems To Be a Good Thing for the Men, Who Are Asked to Take No Risk of Falling Prices — Foreign Holdings of Central Securities.

CHICAGO, July 9.—A rumor that the Illinois Central was proposing to take a new departure in the process of solving the railway labor problem took a reporter to President Fish, of that road, yesterday. Mr. Fish said there was something in the rumor, and continued: "With a view of extending to every person in the service an equal opportunity of sharing in the prosperity of the corporation, and, by mutual co operation, increasing both the efficiency of the service rendered to the public and the profits of the proprietors, we have had under consideration the adoption of a plan somewhat as follows: The company has no stock for sale, but it proposes to assist any of its officers or employes to buy one share at a time at the fair market price, to be fixed when the purchase is made, the purchaser to pay for his shares in sums of $5 or multiples thereof.

The Company Takes All the Risk.

"On the sums so paid interest is to be credited at the rate of 4 per cent., and when the sum at the credit of any purchaser amounts to the sum at which the stock was bought he shall receive a certificate for his share of stock, and can then, if he wishes, begin the purchase of another share. The purchaser may, however at any time, have his contract canceled and his money returned to him with interest, and shall so receive it whenever he leaves the service. Thus the company assumes the entire risk of a fall in the price of the shares and the expense of doing the work.

An Encouragement for Thrift.

"It is hoped to enlist every frugal person in any way connected with the corporation as a partner on a basis of the utmost liberality to the small proprietors. It is not proposed to form a savings bank, a mutual benevolent or a life association, the experience of the company being that the men prefer to handle these matters for themselves. My belief is that the plan, when properly presented, will induce greater thrift among the men, and, through their example, spread among the people the habit of saving and of investing in the securities of the railroad which runs past their doors, and in which the state of Illinois already has so large a proprietary interest.

Some Central History.

"When the Illinois Central railroad was built it was necessary to go abroad to secure the requisite capital. The venture proving successful, it came about that when I entered the company's service in 1871, something like four-fifths of the then capital stock ($25,500,000) was owned abroad, not over $5,000,000, all told, being held in this country. Nearly all of the bonds then outstanding were also owned in Great Britain and in Holland. Finding that the corporation was regarded as an alien and suffered thereby, it has been my aim for many years past to induce small investors in this country to buy and hold the shares.

Increase of American Holders.

"To-day there are eight times as many stockholders in the United States as there were twenty years ago, and while a majority of the stock is still held in Europe, nearly 40 per cent of the present capital of $40,000,000, to wit: $16,000,000, is owned in the United States, and the number of American stockholders is equal to, if it does not exceed, the English. The ultimate object is to produce in the west that community of interest between the citizens and the railways which has given to Great Britain and to the eastern states the perfection of railway service, and the most profitable of investments for small proprietors—sound dividend-paying railway shares."

SHE GETS EVEN WITH THEM.

A St. Louis Educator Has Her Revenge on a Suburb.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Mrs. Anna Sneed Cairns has got even with the people of Kirkwood, an ultra-fashionable suburb, in a manner that will cause each and every citizen of that town to think this is a hard world. While Mrs. Cairns is well known as a temperance lecturer she is also noted as an educator, and for years she has been at the head of a fashionable seminary for young ladies at Kirkwood.

A Row With the Authorities.

About a year ago she had quarrel with the town authorities over a sewer-pipe and was arrested, a nominal fine being imposed. A suit resulted which involved a small amount of money. Mrs. Cairns threatened to leave the town, but the authorities laughed at her, refusing to believe that she would sacrifice her large school property there to gratify her revenge.

They Heard Something Drop.

When, however, she bought a large tract of land near Forest Park boulevard, in this city, and began to build on it they became alarmed at the thought of losing the school, and a syndicate was formed to buy her Kirkwood property. She refused to negotiate, saying laconically: "I am going to sell to negroes."

Was as Good as Her Word.

The people of Kirkwood learned to-day that Mrs. Cairns has made her word good, and has sold her property to a syndicate of wealthy negroes, with ex-United States Minister to Liberia J. Milton Turner at the head, and that a negro manual training school is to be established in the most exclusive quarter of ultra-exclusive Kirkwood.

Did Lyon Swear to a Lie?

NEW YORK, July 9.—A special to The World from Reading says: Detective William Y. Lyon was acquitted two weeks ago of a charge of extorting $10 from a woman to settle her case in court. At the trial he refused to kiss the Bible, merely affirming in the words: "I hope that God will paralyze me if I took that $10 gold piece." When Lyon appeared on the streets Monday he was unable to talk even in a whisper. It is thought his vocal organs are partially paralyzed.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Failures in Life.

People fail in many ways. In business, in morality, in religion, in happiness, and in health. A weak heart is often an unsuspected cause of failure in life. If the blood does not circulate properly in the lungs there is shortness of breath, asthma, etc.; in the brain dizziness, headache, etc. in the stomache, wind, pain, indigestion; faint spells, etc.; in the liver torpidity, congestion, etc. Pain in the left side, shoulder and stomach is caused by heart strain. For all of these maladies Mr. Miles' New Cure for the heart and lungs is the best remedy. Sold, guaranteed and recommended by Tillson & Hayden. Treatise free. 3

Hold It to the Light.

Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balsam to the light and look through it; notice the bright, clear look; then compare with other remedies. Large bottles at all druggists 50c and $1. Sample bottle free.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED ANCIENT EDITION.

A so-called "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" is being offered to the public at a very low price. The body of the book, from A to Z, is a cheap reprint, page for page, of the edition of 1847, which was in its day, a valuable book, but in the progress of language for over FORTY YEARS, has been completely superseded. It is now reproduced, broken type, errors and all, by photo-lithograph process, is printed on cheap paper and flimsily bound. A brief comparison, page by page, between the reprint and the latest and enlarged edition, will show the great superiority of the latter. These reprints are as out of date as a last year's almanac. No honorable dealer will allow the buyer of such to suppose that he is getting the Webster which to-day is accepted as the Standard and THE BEST,—every copy of which bears our imprint as given below.

☞If persons who have been induced to purchase the "Ancient Edition" by any misrepresentations will advise us of the facts, we will undertake to see that the seller is punished as he deserves.

A YANKEE VIEW OF A BRITISH POET.

I've been a-readin' Browning's our schoolmarm said he writ
The tallest kin' er potery the world's dis'covered yet.
Now I like potery better'n pie, or any kin' er sass,
An' hanker for't like winter cows a-hankerin' for grass.

I took the book down to the brook; sez I, "I'll hev it rich,
I'll soak myself in potery an' sentiment an' sich;
The brook'll kinder keep in tune, the bobolink an' birds
Will sing their song, an' so keep time with this great poet's words."

An' so I started in to read; 'twas jest like ridin' roun'
In a big, bumpin', dingle cart, right over new plowed groun';
An' now an' then the ex 'ud break, an' down you'd go kerflop,
Then two or three more wheels 'ud bust, and then the hoss 'ud stop.

An' then he'd start off on a rush, an' go a-whirlin' roun';
Sometimes the cart wuz sideways, an' sometimes upside down;
An' then there'd come an awful jolt, a kinder crazy crash,
An' fust ye'd know, the dingle cart 'ud bust an' go to smash.

I s'pose that's w'en the poem stopped; I didn't read no more;
My bones wuz mixed permiscus like, an' all my jints wuz sore;
The bobolink flew up a tree, an' never raised a yip,
An' I went home, 'an thirteen weeks wuz laid up 'ith the grip.

—S. W. Foss in Yankee Blade.

Possibilities of Youth.

Beware of youth! it is to be dreaded, not despised. The callow fledgling whom we laugh at may burst into song one day. Worse than that, he may impale us for our shortcomings with a shaft of satire, as the poet of the ages did poor Justice Shallow. We, through him, may live eternally inglorious, while he reads his history in all nations' eyes. —Scribner's.

Bogus Grief.

Little Fanny—Aunt Jennie is a regular hypocrite!

Mother—What makes you say that?

Little Fanny—Because she sits at the piano and howls and bellows as if her heart would break, and never sheds a tear. I've been watching her.—Texas Siftings.

A BAD OPINION OF BERMUDA.

It Grows Nothing but Onions to Perfection, and Its Fish Are Not Good.

Bermuda brings to the minds of most people a vision of tropical luxuriance. It is not a tropical island at all; it is only semi-tropical. The tropical trees and plants here, with the exception of the banana, live just as long as they are cherished and watched with careful culture. There is nothing spontaneous in their growth, and they never spread to much extent, even under the aiding process.

There are a limited number of palm trees of the different varieties, and a few handsome ones are among them. The palmetto and pawpaw are seen. The India rubber and the calabash tree are represented by a few specimens, and the former in one or two cases has grown to great size. But none of these trees looks as if it belonged in Bermuda. Their appearance is very much as if they were set out in one of our own gardens in the summer season. I scarcely saw an orange or lemon tree on the islands. In fact there is but one tree that seems indigenous to the soil of Bermuda. It is the cedar. This grows to a considerable size, and it grows spontaneously. If there is any other tree that does it escaped my observation.

The soil everywhere is thin, composed of a red loam, and is not fertile. Instead of the luxuriant richness I expected, I find the islands barren. They grow nothing in abundance but the onion. Not even grass is raised to any extent. The tomato comes to useful maturity and a limited number of potatoes are raised, of which white and sweet are both good, but the islands import everything else. Aside from the banana, which is smaller in size than that to which we are accustomed, there is no fruit here which has not been imported. I have not seen a Bermuda orange or lemon, to say nothing of figs or pomegranates.

An islander would almost have to inquire what a strawberry was if he saw it; the peach, the apple, the plum are here only by importation. You see everything in air and climate to suggest fertility, and the soil denies it all. Bermuda is far beyond Boston in the possession of fruits, vegetables, meats and game for the table, except always the all pervading onion. They do not even keep cows enough to supply the people, and for their eggs and poultry they send very largely to the continent. I looked at least to the fish for some compensation. Here, too, was disappointment. The ocean fish are not anything like as good in Bermuda as either in Boston or New Orleans.—Boston Herald.

Where the Old Ships Go.

A man stepped into one of the shipping offices on Front street the other day to have a look at The Maritime Register. An old sea captain who had been reading it remarked, as the visitor laid the sheet aside, after an apparently fruitless inspection, "Don't find what you were looking for, eh?"

"No," was the answer. "I was looking for the B——, but she isn't listed in this number."

"Old ship?"

"Yes. I sailed in her twenty years ago."

"Oh, well, then, she belongs to the Germans by this time."

"How's that?"

"Well, the Germans don't build ships, leastwise not wooden ones, so much as some other people do. They buy second hand ships, and they do most of their buying in America. The German merchants operate on smaller capital than ours, and they can't or won't put as much money into timber as they do here. They have a sharp eye for bargains, too, let me tell you, and when they find a tub that's somewise slow or leaky, but presentable and cheap, they buy her, copper bottom her and start her on her travels again. Lord! There's lots of American built ships flying the Dutchman's flag at our wharves. Some Norwegians buy 'em, too, but it's mostly Germans that get 'em."

This throws a light on old ships, but the pins, pianos and sewing machines are still to be accounted for.—New York Sun.

The Good Lived After Him.

Years ago there lived in a town not far from Portland a man of property, education, ability and good habits. He was elected several times to the legislature, and served with credit to himself and to his constituents. In old age misfortune came upon him. He lost all his property and went to live with his younger brother because he had nowhere else to go.

But the brother's children would not have the old man in the house, and ordered the selectmen to remove him. He was taken to the poor farm, and there he died. Later these same children removed their uncle's remains to the village cemetery, and at the head of his grave set up a marble slab and placed upon it this inscription:

"Farewell, dear uncle, until we meet you in a Better Land."—Portland Argus.

Compressed Air Chisel.

The compressed air chisel was first brought into use in this country. An improved form is now being used in Europe by stone dressers, sculptors and metal workers. The economy of labor compared with the hand chisel is four or five fold. At the same time the surface cut by the compressed air chisel is cleaner and smoother than is possible with the hand chisel. This is especially the case with granite. The new instrument is said to be of great service in metal working and wood working.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we became scary. We have found Chamberlain's Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. It is somewhat similar to the usual cholera cures, but seems to contain ingredients that rendr it more pleasant to take, tha do their work more quickly. Sheriff Devereux tells us that he is subject to cholera morbus, and recently felt a spell coming on, when he obtained a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and two doses made him all right. We are not writing this for a pay testamonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house.—Troy (Kan.) Chief. For sale by H. E. Donaldson.

C. H. STACKPOLE.

Dixon, June 30, 1890.

We have one of Emmert's improved cistern wells and the combined Air and Cistern Pumps. Think it indespensible. I would not do without it for any consideration. Before using it the water smelled so badly we could not drink it; it is now perfectly pure. HELEN COURTRIGHT.

Dixon, July 3, 1890.

We have used Emmert's Portable Cistern Well for five years and the water is just as nice now as when it was put in. We would not part with it. Before we had the well we boiled the water we drank. This well has not been repacked.

EMMA J. PINCKNEY.

Dixon, June 27, 1890.

We have Emmert's system of water works. Come and take a drink of the sparkling water taken from the well and you will be convinced it is the article you want. We think it just perfect.

F. M. & H. D. COURTRIGHT.

Dixon, June 31, 1890.

I have one of Emmert's wells in my cistern for five years and it has always given me excellent water. MRS. DANIEL SMITH

MR. EMMERT,

The pump you have placed in my cistern does the work as you said it would and the water keeps sweet and pure. E. A. PATRICK, July 2, 1890.
